It is the high quality of Royal Baking Powder that has established its great and world-wide reputation.

Every housewife knows she can rely upon it; that it makes the bread and biscuit more delicious and wholesome—always the finest that can be baked.

It is economy and every way better to use the Royal, whose work is always certain, never experimental.

There are many imitation baking powders, made from alum. They may cost less per pound, but their use is at the cost of health.

Capital: Judging from the list of enterprises outlined for next summer in the REGISTER, Iola intends to keep right along at the same gait she has maintained for the past two years.

Among the presents which Probate Judge Smith received was a huge coffee mug, of a size that would make an ordinary schooner look like a three spot. In fact he can get his entire mug inside it.

In biliousness, HERBINE, by expelling from the body the excess of bile and acids, improves the assimilative process, purifies the blood and tones up and strengthens the entire system. Price 50 cts. Evans Bros.

A Gas City youth who appeared before the probate judge with his blushing bride to be, was so confused he could hardly speak, and when he did get a word through his lips he called for "a life sentence" instead of license.

For broken limbs, chilblains, burns, scalds, bruised skins, sore throat and sores of every kind, apply HALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It will give immediate relief and heal any wound. Price 25 cts. and 50 cts. Evans Bros.

There was a reunion of the Riggs family Xmas day at the home of Mel Riggs and thirty-two relatives were present. There was a big dinner and a fine time talking over old times, and then the whole family had a group picture taken.

There are few ailments so uncomfortable as piles, but they can easily be cured by using FARLER'S BUCKEYE PILE OINTMENT. Relief follows its use, and any one suffering from piles cannot afford to neglect to give it a trial. Price 50 cts in bottles, tubes 75 cts. Evans Bros.

When a young man takes a girl to a play and afterwards takes her home and wanders to the cafe and eats oysters, she ought to look favorably upon him for this evidence of a saving disposition in this day and age where so many are extravagant. But she never does.

The REGISTER received requests from the Associated Press, Kansas City Star and Chicago Tribune for information about the fire at Lanyonville. Which would seem to indicate that the big cold world is becoming more interested in the little community called Allen county.

The disposition of children largely depends upon health. If they are troubled with worms, they will be irritable, cross, feverish, and perhaps seriously sick. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE is a worm expeller and tonic to make them healthy and cheerful. Price 25 cts. Evans Bros.

Sheriff Hobart went to Humboldt Tuesday and arrested Chas. Hunt and Ed. Rushton, charged with running joints. They are new members of the Allen county fraternity. Both gave bond for their appearance. About five loads of beer was confiscated in the two places.

The editor of the Moran Herald, after looking upon the sour grapes, said: "After all natural gas is a dangerous thing unless handled properly. Three persons dead, several thousand dollars loss of property and other persons narrowly escaped death within the last week from asphyxiation in Allen county."

Lost or strayed from Gas City, a black mare, weight 1000 pounds; had on blanket and halter. Reasonable reward for return to T. J. Wilford at Gas City or to Hart's barn, Iola, d.w.

Judge Stillwell has written to Frank Travis, with proper condolences, concerning a clipping which the Judge found in the Kansas City Journal to the effect that "Annie Travis has begun divorce proceedings against her husband Frank Travis."

J. M. Williamson has bought the material for a ten or twelve room residence on the site of his present home at the corner of Walnut and Brackenridge streets. He will move his present house to the south one of his three lots and build on the north two.

Two fires within a week with an aggregate loss of $60,000 is a blow to any small town, and the very slight jar which this calamity has had on the commercial interests of this community would seem to credit Iola with a very firm and stable breed of prosperity.

There is a girl in Iola whose birthday occurs on the 29th day of February, so she only has a birthday once every four years. She is so honest, however, that she admits being more than eight, which is the age she is really entitled to swear to. She will have another birthday next year.

Mr. Sckjwpxzksky, or whatever his name is, who collects old iron and bones around here, today shipped out a car which contained fifteen tons, or 30,000 pounds of scrap iron, for which he paid thirty cents a hundred. He will make a handsome profit selling it to some foundry.

There was a double wedding at the home of Mrs. Shea, on north State street, Rev. Tudor uniting in marriage E. A. Laymon and Anna Shea, and Henry C. Shea and Nora Dillon. All the young people are well known and are popular. They have the very best wishes of all their friends.

In sluggish liver, HERBINE, by its beneficial action upon the biliary tract, renders the bile more fluid, and brings the liver into a sound, healthy condition, thereby banishing the sense of drowsiness, lethargy, and the general feeling of apathy, which arise from disorders of the liver. Price 50 cts. Evans Bros.

Joe Rosenberg is moving his dry goods stock to his new room at the corner of Washington avenue and West street and will soon have the store to do business. He will make the store a department, adding a line of house furnishings to his dress goods notions and dry goods departments. And his friends all hope he may get rich at his new stand.

One thing that makes the roads and streets so bad is that Iola is doing the business of a town of 10,000 people on streets that belong to a 1,000 town. The ceaseless hauling of heavy loads, which can no longer be delayed just because a rain has fallen, cuts the streets all to pieces and the ruts have no time to recover. Never in the history of Iola were they so bad as they are right now.

The Cement Company has decided to finally abandon the well which it sunk on the Francis farm near Chanute, having reached salt water and the end of hope. Mr. French went to Carlyle this afternoon for the purpose of locating another well. The exact location is not yet decided upon, but it will be near the village of Carlyle. And so here's hoping again.

Topeka Capital: "It will be rebuilt." This line appeared in all the accounts of the destruction of the big smelter at La Harpe. It is a line which shows up in nine of ten accounts of fires in Kansas where anything of value is consumed. "It will be rebuilt." The phrase is significant of the push and hustle which has made the state. The true Kansan may be burnt out, drowned out, or knocked out in any old way, but after he lights his first thought is to put up the old sign: "It will be rebuilt."

Here is the true inwardness of the way Chanute beat Iola recently at checkers. The snail is thus given away by the Erie Record: "W. L. Smith went to Chanute Tuesday night to show Chanute how to put up a good game of checkers with Iola, by telephone. Four games were played, three being a draw and Chanute winning the other. Iola won three games out of four from Chanute last week. Smith first turned down Chanute's crack players after which they turned him loose on the fifteen champions at the Iola end of the wire, allowing him to play the games alone."

The following from the Parsons Eclipse reminds Iola that the stringent ordinance passed some time ago providing that the roads should protect Iola crossings has not been complied with: "The Santa Fe is introducing a new method of protecting railroad crossing in small towns. Large gong bells are placed on posts on either side of the track and are so arranged that they begin to ring when a train comes within 1,000 feet of the crossing and continue to ring until it passes that far on the other side. The bells have been tested for some time and rarely get out of order. They answer the purpose of protecting the people and the cost is trifling when compared to that of maintaining a gate and a watchman."

Several years ago, on one of his Alaskan trips Fred Funston lost his college fraternity badge. Soon after he returned home from Manila he got a letter from a gentleman in Washington D. C., informing him that he had seen a badge of this fraternity with his name on it in the possession of a certain person, and inquiring if it were his. Gen. Funston at once wrote and asked his correspondent to secure the badge, even if he had to pay for it. Apparently, however, the gentleman has recently changed his address as the letter which Funston wrote to him has just been returned from the dead letter office. So how it happened that this badge found its way from the forests or snow fields of Alaska to Washington will probably remain a mystery.

In Pain?

In the Back?

Then probably the kidneys.

In the Chest?

Then probably the lungs.

In the Joints?

Then probably rheumatism.

Here is an item for the police—Harry Bassett has gone to his work at the county clerk's office two days in succession without his umbrella. Such a thing has never happened before in all the time he has resided here.

Chanute Sun: Mrs. Dannefer, who left the train Friday while enroute to the asylum, was found Sunday at Lone Elm, Allen county, quite a distance from Chanute, and the authorities here notified. Sheriff Prange went up there, only to find that she had again escaped. Yesterday another dispatch came stating that she was at a place ten miles north of Lone Elm.

County Superintendent Billbe took a flock of school marms from the county to Topeka Tuesday to the State teachers' association. Miss Thompson and Mrs. Crook are there already and today the following went up: Misses Mitchell, Klummann, Swigart, Forster, Irving, Chockley, Campbell, of Humboldt, Nielson, of Savonburg, Mrs. Millard, Mr. Tredway, and Prof. Cline and the Misses McCormack, of Moran. Allen county is mightily well represented.

There drifted into town Wednesday from La Harpe, where he had spent the night in the depot, a man named Melanthy. He had traveled from Kansas City to Nevada and was disappointed in not finding the people he was seeking, he started penniless to Edmund, Okla., whither they had removed. He was born in England in 1809 and is a 32nd degree Mason. Among the visitors at the city hall where he applied for assistance was John Ireland, and a conversation was struck up which revealed that the two hailed from within a few miles of the same place in England. The Masonic badge did the rest and the old gentleman will travel in comfort and ease to his destination. It makes a very nice Christmas story.

The Sunday Joplin Herald has the following to say about the Chanute aspirations: "Last week the commercial club of Chanute, Kansas, sent word to the smelter committee of the Zinc Miners' association that they would be glad to entertain the committee at an early date and show them the advantages Chanute has to offer for the location of a smelter. The committee has wired back that owing to the fact that Chanute is not on any line of railway directly connecting with the zinc producing district it has been thought advisable to leave the town out of consideration in the location of the proposed producers' smelter, unless Chanute can give positive assurance that either one or both of her railroads, the Santa Fe and M. & K. T., will be built into the mining district. The committee therefore will not go to Chanute, for the present, at least."

The REGISTER Bindery is now working three people and is turning out a lot of first class work. It has just turned out a 640-page, full leather bound, flat opening record book for the county that Mr. Fowler says is as good a book as ever came into his office. It has also recently finished four large special ruled blank books for the St. Paul Mining Company, and has made two large hotel registers. All of which is mentioned merely to call attention to the fact that there is no occasion for anyone in Iola to send away from this town for blank books of any kind or for any ordinary kind of book binding. The REGISTER Bindery is just receiving now a shipment of three hundred volumes of magazines and periodicals which it has the contract to bind, having won it against the competition of the best binderies in the State. Iola people ought not to send away from Iola work that other people send to Iola.

A Clear Case of MUST!

We are stuck, and we have the moral courage to admit it. The plain, unadulterated truth; and the only reason is: Too Many Overcoats—and too little Winter. We have waited and hoped for Jack Frost's arrival until it is dangerous to wait any longer. We are going to "take our medicine" in no half-hearted way.

All of you who have compared prices know that at all times, when others were advertising Cost Sales, and making Special Prices, you could go into The Hub and find the same goods at the same price, or a little cheaper. And there was the price in plain figures.

From now on, we propose to

Iola, Kansas:

There is to be a foot ball game in Iola on New Year's day, the first ever played on the town site. It will take place at the fair grounds and the contesting clubs will be Humboldt and Moran. Tender hearted Iola people need have no qualms therefore as the bruises of the game will not by any chance be in evidence at their homes. A small admission fee will be charged and as the two teams have been verbally murdering each other for some time, the game ought to be hotly contested.

Dr. McMillan of Marcelline, Mo., whose visit here about a month ago was noted in the REGISTER, is again in Iola and has made arrangements to become a citizen of the city. The doctor has secured rooms in the Turner building for his office and has vacated the Apple house, soon to be vacated by Mr. Joe Rosenberg, for his family.
